Under the Tunney Act, I would like to comment on the Proposed Final Judgement (PFJ) for the case of United States v. Microsoft.

In short, I believe the PFJ to not be in the public's best interest -- it is not nearly punitive enough in punishing the Microsoft for the anticompetitive practises it has been found by the court to have engaged in, nor is it comprehensive enough in preventing Microsoft to continue to engage in wrongdoing.

A good summary of many specific deficiencies, all of which I agree with, can be found in Dan Kegel's open letter:
